President's Message

With 18 intercollegiate sports here at Salisbury State College, our emphasis on participatory athletics is well documented. Equally important, we are fortunate to have not only a highly competent group of educators to motivate and teach our student-athletes but truly outstanding facilities where they are able to train and compete. As such, that segment of the college community possessing outstanding athletic skills and a personal dedication to success on the playing field is able to achieve significant individual and team oriented goals.

While the recognition these talented young men and women receive is justly deserved, the opportunity for all to participate is an overriding interest at Salisbury State, whether it be in intercollegiate athletics or intramural activities.

Additionally, the opportunity for the student body to go out to root for some of the most talented of our student-athletes is part of the thread that weaves throughout the unique fabric of a college community.

Sea Gull Lacrosse

OUTLOOK

For 1986

A new look and a new era will be the focus of the 1986 Salisbury State College lacrosse team. New head coach Joe Rotellini (Bethany, '76) enters his first year at the Sea Gull helm and is excited about this year's team.

"We seem to have a mixture of everything," said Rotellini, who led Alfred University to a school record 9-2 mark including a number 15 ranking in the nation last season. "Salisbury State has an excellent lacrosse tradition and I think this year's team has the potential to build upon that tradition."

The Sea Gulls finished last season, under former head coach Hank Janczyk, with a 10-5 mark, but became the first SSC lacrosse team to miss the NCAA playoffs since the 1976 season. Salisbury State, in fact, has reached the playoffs 10 of the 12 years in which lacrosse has been an intercollegiate sport here, missing only in 1976 and 1974.

"We are relatively young this year," said Rottelini, who has nine seniors on the squad. "But, I'm excited about our players. Most of them stayed over the Winter Term at SSC in order to work out and prepare themselves for the upcoming season."

Although, the Gulls have a good nucleus returning this season, they will be without first team All-American and team most valuable player Roger Koch. Koch led the team in 1985 in goals (53), assists (35), points (88) and shots (91). His leadership as a tri-captain at the attack position will be missed.

But, Rotellini shows no signs of distress when talking about the 1986 squad.

"Despite the loss of Koch, we have some excellent attackmen returning," said Rotellini.

The second and third leading scorers on last year's team are back in Don Gallager and Jimmy Townsend. Gallagher, a 6-1, 175 senior from Massapequa, NY scored 39 goals while dishing out 25 assists. Townsend, a 6-0, 200 senior from Corning, NY, contributed 33 goals and 24 assists. He was named team most improved player in 1984 and his stick handling and offense will be a big help during the season.

Depth may be a problem at attack. James Sturgell and John Valenti are the only returning players at the position. Sturgell, a 6-0, 185 junior from Deale, MD, had seven goals last season while scoring 14 the year before. Valenti, a 6-0, 200 junior from Glen Burnie, MD, added three goals last season. Freshmen may be counted on for some needed depth. The 1986 midfield may be the strongest area of the team. Senior Kyle Hannan, 5-11, 165 from Reisterstown, MD, returns as the 1985 Charles B. Clark award winner. Hannan scored nine goals and had nine assists last season. Also, the team's fourth leading scorer last year, Glenn Rutkowski, a 5-7, 160 senior from Baltimore, returns along with junior James Nelson (5-11, 175 from Maplewood, NJ), junior Jeff Cross (5-7, 145 from Corning, NY), sophomore Richard Maranto (5-9, 170 from Crofton, MD), senior Paul Harmon (5-10, 170 from Belair, MD), senior Brian Travers (5-11, 160 from Fallston, MD), junior Ronald Sansone (5-10, 170 from Maplewood, NJ), senior Kevin Gates (5-11, 180 from Centerport, NY), sophomore Joe Lynch (5-9, 170 from Londonberry, NH), sophomore Ron McGann (5-9, 170 from Westfield, NJ) and junior Doug Boozer (5-10, 203 from Towson, MD), who will be at faceoff.

The defense, which allowed just 146 goals last season, will be led by junior Bill Larkin (6-0, 190 from Edgewood, MD), junior Steve Berquist (5-10, 180 from Towson, MD) and sophomore Pete Roskovich (6-0, 195 from Catonsville, MD).

"If there is an area that I'm concerned with, it would be goalie," said Rotellini.

Returning at goalie will be junior Dean Lewis (6-0, 205 from Ellicott City, MD). Lewis allowed 90 goals while saving just over 60 percent of the shots aimed at him. Behind him are freshmen.

"I like the fast-break, aggressive type of offense," said Rotellini. "SSC will force and put pressure on the defense in 1986. However, defensively, we will be a little more conservative. We will try not to make overaggressive mistakes while playing like a team."

SSC has a tough schedule ahead in 1986. fifteen matches, including eight home, will highlight the slate. Pfeiffer and Guilford, two North Carolina schools, will be the first two opponents at home followed by NY Maritime, St. Lawrence, Mt. St. mary's, Kutztown, Radford and St. Mary's. The Gulls will travel to Loyola, Denison, Roanoke, Washington, Georgetown and Lynchburg.

A new look, but perhaps some old results (NCAA playoffs) are in store for the 1986 lacrosse season.

One of the most delicious decisions you'll ever make.

Why go to just a restaurant when you can go to a foodrinkery?

What is a foodrinkery?

A foodrinkery is more than simply a restaurant. It's food and fun and sociability all converging at the hottest "in" establishment Salisbury has ever known...the perfect place to meet before the game and celebrate after. Ample quantities of delicious ribs, steak, chicken, lasagna, and the ever popular Mrs. Curly's crabcakes make for memorable eating...inspired drinks enjoyed with the friendliest folks around...in an atmosphere of automobile memorabilia. There may be differences of opinion about the game, but there are no disagreements about Curly's Garage. Everyone loves it.

Sea Gulls in Nine of the Last 12 NCAA Postseason Tourneys

With the Sea Gulls participating in nine of the last 12 NCAA postseason lacrosse tournaments, Salisbury State ranks as one of the top Division III lacrosse schools in the nation. That task alone is an accomplishment that many schools have strived for years to achieve. But this is only the 13th year for lacrosse to be played at Salisbury, making the Gulls' rise to the top even more remarkable.

The idea to start lacrosse at Salisbury State came from Lehigh University's two-time All-American Andy Jones, who came to Salisbury State as a part-time instructor. Since lacrosse had been part of Maryland sports since the 19th century, it was only natural for historic Salisbury to take the sport into its own.

Following a vote by the student body and administration, Salisbury State fielded a junior varsity team in 1973 coached by Jones. Though the young team lost all six of its games that year, the feeling was good and lacrosse went varsity the following year, achieving respectable 5-4 record in its first varsity season.

Jones continued to press on in his efforts to make Salisbury an even better team. In 1975, his Gulls did the unthinkable—10 consecutive wins on their way to a 12-2 regular season record and a spot in the Division II-III tournament—all in only their second year of varsity competition. The Gulls dropped their first postseason game to Towson State, but staked a claim as a legitimate lacrosse power. Jones too received recognition for his work, receiving the Francis L. "Babe" Kraus Award as the USILA Coach of the Year.

Jones took Salisbury State to one more postseason game in 1977. The Gulls, with All-American Dave Cottle at attack, posted a 9-4 record in 1977 and played the University of Baltimore to an 11-10 decision in the first round. Cottle then became the first SSC player to participate in the prestigious North-South Classic All-Star game.

Current Towson State assistant Joe Ardolino took the reins for the 1978 season and took the Gulls to their third postseason game, finishing the season with a 6-6 record and a 15-9 loss to Ithaca in the Division II-III first round.

The following year began the most successful period in SSC's 12-year lacrosse history and the end of the postseason losing streak under the leadership of one of the most respected coaches in the history of the sport, Dr. Charles B. Clark. Clark joined the College's History department in 1979 and took control of the lacrosse program at the same time. A past president of the USILA in 1955 and 1957, Clark had coached his Washington College Shoremen to a 75-31 record from 1948 to 1956 and was given the honor of coaching the 1953 South team in the annual North-South Classic (South won 12-9).

The Gulls received their fourth postseason bid following a 6-6 season that year and proceeded to beat Loyola in the opening round of the tournament, 13-12. The joy ended with a 17-4 loss to Towson State in the semifinals. The next four years saw Salisbury reach postseason play every year, including the initial NCAA Division III tournament in 1980. The Sea Gulls beat St. Lawrence 15-11 in the opening round before losing to eventual champion Hobart, 21-5.

Clark's four-year record of 39-15 along with a 4-4 postseason record stands as the most triumphant period in Salisbury lacrosse history and a period that saw more Sea Gull players recognized with postseason awards than any other. In all, 12 Salisbury State players received All-America status during Clark's reign, including first team All-Americans Lewis Scharff (midfield, 1980), Mike Bracken (attack, 1981), Glenn Norris (midfield, 1981) and Mark Fowler (defense, 1982). Norris now plays professional lacrosse with the United States Box lacrosse team.

Where Clark left off, Hank Janczyk has either continued or improved. A former captain of the Hobart lacrosse team during his college days, Janczyk brought a rich lacrosse playing and coaching tradition to Salisbury and fit exactly into the mold left by his predecessors.

Having lost to Janczyk's alma mater a year earlier in the quarterfinals, the Sea Gulls put together a 9-5 record in 1983 to achieve a No. 5 national ranking in hopes of avenging their earlier loss. But Washington College stood between the Gulls and the semifinals, SSC losing 19-7 in the first round.

Janczyk's troops rebounded in 1984 and broke records left and right. The Sea Gulls tied a school-recorded 11 consecutive wins to finish the regular season with a 12-1 recod and a No. 3 national ranking. After beating Cortland State in the quarterfinals, the Gulls dropped their second game of the year to Washington College, 13-8.

But the loss did not put a dismal end to the Sea Gulls' record-breaking season. Middie Jim Huelskamp received first team All-American honors with three other Gulls being named to the All-American team. Janczyk was honored as well, becoming the second Salisbury State coach in 11 years to receive the Francis L. "Babe" Kraus Award as the USILA Coach of the Year.

DR. LOUIS M. MARCIANI
Chairman of the Department of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics

Dr. Louis M. Marciani became the chairman of the Department of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics in August of 1984. In a year's time, Marciani has surveyed all aspects of his position and expects to act on his observations during the 1985-86 academic year.

A shaker and a mover, Marciani could be seen during 1984-85 setting up airplane throws and twister games, talking with students and teachers about the curriculum or meeting with alumni and friends of the college organizing an Athletic Booster Club. His plans for the coming year equal or exceed those of last year.

Marciani has not let his energy sit within the confines of Salisbury. He has traveled many miles in the past year promoting Salisbury State. A forerunner in the belief that athletics and campus recreation programs can and should be run together. Marciani has spoken at several workshops and seminars during the past year.

A native of the Bronx, NY, Marciani entered the coaching profession as well as the administrative aspect of athletics in 1966 when he became the director of intramurals and head soccer and wrestling coach at Gannon College. He traveled four years later to Buffalo State to act in the same capacity before making a ten-year stay as chairman of the department of intramural-recreation at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Among his many achievements at Southern Mississippi was his conception and development of Lake Sehoy, a 200-acre outdoor recreation facility which includes areas for swimming, boating, fishing and camping as well as an arts and crafts center and a full equestrian center.

DEANE DESHON
Associate Athletic Director

Deane Deshon was named associate athletic director in August, 1984 with the appointment of Dr. Louis Marciani to the position of Chairman of the Department of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics. Prior to that appointment, Deshon held the position of athletic director at the college as well as head baseball coach, a position which he still holds after 22 years.

Deshon is in charge of the financial matters of the department and assists in games administration and overall supervision.

The Rockland, ME native came to Salisbury State by way of the Maine Maritime Academy where he studied Marine Science and the University of Maine at Orono where he took up Physical Education. Deshon received his master's degree in Physical Education from the University of Maryland-College Park in 1962, having coached the Terrapin's freshman baseball team during his two years of study.

After Deshon had settled in his duties as a PE instructor at Salisbury State, he was charged with the reintroduction of collegiate baseball to the Eastern Shore in 1964, Salisbury at one time being a hot bed for semiprofessional bsseball, especially during the 1950's. Several major league baseball greats and Hall of Famers played at one time or another on the sandy surface of Delmarva, with Salisbury being granted primary focus.

In all, Deshon has coached 16 winning ballclubs in his 22 years with an overall record of 362-253-10. He has been named the Division III Coach of the Year on two separate occasions and has coached nine playoff teams. Aside from his other duties over the years, Deshon was also the Gull's basketball coach for seven years before present coach Ward Lambert.

A three-sport standout at Maine Maritime, Deshon captained the baseball team while playing shortstop during his senior year. He also played football and basketball with equal vigor before graduating and entering the Navy in 1953. Following his service. Deshon attended the University of Maine where he played baseball for two years, being the captain of the team in his senior year. A second and third baseman during that time, Deshon won the State Series Batting Championship.

DEAN BURROUGHS
Associate Athletic Director

Dean Burroughs was appointed associate athletic director in September, 1984 by Dr. Louis Marciani, in charge of scheduling and games administration along with various other tasks.

The Gulls' tennis coach for 12 years now, Burroughs has served as both men's and women's tennis coach, being solely the men's coach for the last several years. His best year was in 1985, when Salisbury finished with a 22-4 record and a No. 2 ranking in the NCAA South Atlantic region. His efforts have produced All-America quality players and nationally ranked teams over the years, the Gulls having been selected to participate in six NCAA national tournaments under his leadership.

Through the efforts of Burroughs, Salisbury will be the host of the 1987 NCAA Division III National Men's Tennis Championships. Burroughs has attracted national attention to Salisbury State before, having brought the 1981 NCAA Division III National Tournament to the campus. While in charge of the women's program, Salisbury hosted national championship tournaments in 1978 and 1980, the 1978 tournament, the AIAW National Championships, was the first of its kind, bringing both individuals and teams to Salisbury for nine days of tennis.

A native of Orlando, Florida, Burroughs gradudated from the University of Tampa in 1963. While at Tampa, he lettered all four years as a catcher and outfielder on the Tampa baseball team. It was not until he graduated that he played tennis competitively. He won both the city and county championships at Gastonia, NC and was ranked in the top 15 in the state of North Carolina in 1973.

PAT LAMBONI, ATC
Head Trainer, 4th Year

Pat Lamboni is in his fourth year as head trainer for the Sea Gulls. A strong advocate of certification for athletic trainers, Lamboni coordinates and carries out the athletic training concentration in Physical Education at Salisbury State. The program, which sends Salisbury students to area high schools as their athletic trainers, is the only one of its kind in the state.

A 1978 graduate of Salisbury State, Lamboni played second base on the Sea Gull baseball team in 1976 and 1977 under coach Deane Deshon. After achieving a M.Ed. from Salisbury, he received his NATA certification in 1980.

Lamboni spent the next two years as the head trainer at Catholic University in Washington, DC, before returning to Salisbury in 1982 as head trainer, replacing Hunter Smith, now head trainer for the Indianapolis Colts of the NFL.

Aside from his duties as head trainer and Physical Education instructor, Lamboni is responsible for all team travel plans during the season.

Nestled in one of the nations's most magical and historical areas, the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Salisbury State College effectively combines the relaxed yet personable nature of a small college education with the rigorous academic demands of a major university.

The recreational pursuits of the Eastern Shore are legendary, from the boardwalk of Ocean City to the wilderness of Chincoteague Island to the tranquility of Blackwater Refuge near Cambridge, Md. Only 30 miles to the east is Ocean City's famous white beach and the 30 miles of Assateague Island's National and State Park.

Salisbury, Wicomico's county seat and the Shore's major city today, was laid out by a charter granted in 1732, the year George Washington was born.

The College offers undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, and graduate programs leading to the Master of Arts in English, History and Psychology, the Master of Education, and the Master of Business Administration.

Salisbury State's undergraduate program became more defined in 1984 with the alignment of the College's major programs into five distinct schools of learning: the School of Nursing and Health Sciences; the School of Business; the School of Liberal Arts; the School of Professional Studies, and the School of Science.

The Salisbury State athletic program is a comprehensive program, offering participation in 18 intercollegiate sports at the NCAA Division III level. In all, nine sports are offered for participation by male students and nine for participation by female students.

In addition, the College offers sports at the club and intramural level with a wide range of activities through the Office of Intramural and Recreational Sports.
